Message from the Premier, The Hon. R. J. Hamer

It is with great pleasure I welcome all interstate and overseas entrants in the National Band Championships, and the officials and audiences coming with them, to Melbourne, capital of the Garden State of Australia.

Fifty-three brass bands from all States of Australia with one from New Zealand are here to take part in this great event. Ahead of us is some 80 hours of musical entertainment — a feast for any music-lover.

I know that your host, the Victorian Bands League, has done and will do everything possible to ensure that everyone is treated with our renowned Victorian hospitality.

I wish you all well and, no matter what the results may be, I know that our Victorian bandsmen, officials, audiences and citizens will make you all welcome and give you an experience to remember Victoria by for many years.

The Honourable R. J. Hamer, E.D., M.P.
Premier of Victoria

Mr. Hishinuma
Director — Nippon Gakki Co. Ltd.

Yamaha welcomes you

I am delighted that Yamaha is able to assist the Banding Movement in Australia by sponsoring these Championships.

My Company is committed to the expansion of Music Education and participation through the medium of our Yamaha Music Foundation, which sponsors education programmes and music festivals in many countries.

It is my hope that, by sponsoring the 1978 Australian National Band Championships, we will make a further contribution to the enjoyment of music in Australia.

I regret that I am unable to attend the Championships in person, but Mr. Hishinuma, a Director of Nippon Gakki (manufacturers of Yamaha Musical Instruments) is looking forward to his visit in my stead.

Welcome to the Championships. I am sure that your participation will bring satisfaction and enjoyment.

H. Kawashima
President — Nippon Gakki Co. Ltd.

Message from the President of the Victorian Bands League

Victoria is pleased to welcome all Bandspeople and their supporters to the first Australian National Band Championships to be held in Melbourne.

The contest committee has worked diligently and spared no effort to ensure that the 1978 Championships are successful, and the Victorian Bands League has supported their efforts in every way.

Financial success has been guaranteed by the generous support of our sponsors "YAMAHA", this has made possible an unprecedented expenditure budget which should considerably contribute towards the enormous cost which is involved in taking a Band to a contest.

To our interstate and New Zealand visitors a very special welcome and we trust your stay with us will be a happy one. I trust that the spirit of friendly rivalry will prevail throughout the contest and that you will go home suitably rewarded for the hours of work involved in the preparation for this contest.

The League is fortunate to have been able to arrange for the Secretary to be employed full time for the three months prior to the Championships, Bert Bowden is to be congratulated for a magnificent job.

Wilfrid Dyason

Message from the Mayor of Kew

On behalf of the City Council and the people of Kew, I extend to all Bandsmen, their families and supporters, a cordial welcome to our City for the 1978 Australian National Band Championships. In particular, I welcome our overseas visitors.

For competitors, this week culminates a year of preparation; for families and supporters it affords the opportunity to share with the Bandsmen the spirit of friendly competition through the performance of music which so greatly enriches our lives.

It is a time for meeting old friends and making new ones, and I trust that your stay in our City will be enjoyable. Kew is a beautiful city flanked on the north and west by the Yarra River and Yarra Bend Park. I hope that you might have time to visit the park and enjoy also the quiet beauty of surrounding residential areas.

I extend to the Victorian Bands' League my congratulations on the staging of the Championships, and wish you all a safe return to your homes at the conclusion of the competitions.

Noel J. Whiting, J.P.

Adjudicators

Chief Adjudicator: Roy Newsome, B.Mus., F.R.C.O., A.R.C.M.

The Brass Band has always attracted the most serious attentions of Roy Newsome, despite a wide range of musical interests in his early years. This is not altogether surprising, as "banding" has been in his family for five generations.

He was born in the town of Elland, Yorkshire, in 1930, had his first piano lessons from his father, when aged six, and started playing the cornet three years later. First as cornettist, and later as conductor, he has been associated with many well-known bands, and was invited to join Black Dyke Mills Band in 1966. First as Bandmaster, and later as Resident Conductor, he has helped in the making of some 30 long-playing gramophone records, has directed the band in numerous broadcasts and television programmes, has led them to some of their contest successes, and has conducted concerts in all parts of the U.K., as well as in Canada and the U.S.A., and in Switzerland, Holland and France.

Roy Newsome is also well-known throughout the brass band movement as adjudicator, teacher, composer and arranger. He has adjudicated many competitions, including the British Open Championship (1975) and the Granada Band of the Year Festival (1977), and has many published compositions and arrangements. In 1969 his Concerto for Piano and Brass Band received its first performance at the Royal Albert Hall, London.

He also directs many courses, particularly for young bandsmen, and his full-time job is as Course Director of the "Band Musicianship" course recently set up at the Salford College of Technology. At Easter, 1977, he was Guest Conductor with the National Youth Brass Band of Great Britain.

At the end of 1977 Roy Newsome relinquished his position at Black Dyke, taking up two appointments, as Musical Director of the Besses o'th' Barn Band, and as Professional Conductor of the Stanshawe (Bristol) Band.

Ronald Hanmer was born in England, and worked for 30 years as a composer and arranger in London, before taking up permanent residence in Brisbane in 1975. Like Gordon Langford, he is not purely a brass band musician, but an orchestral musician in the widest sense of the term.

Basically self taught, he learnt the elements of most instruments of the orchestra, with piano and organ as the all-important mainstay. Two scholarships won him composition lessons with the late Harry Farjeon, but by that time he had already left school and was working as a full-time professional musician.

He was the arranger of some 40 of the special musical arrangements for the famous "ITMA" radio show, and contributed many signature tunes to BBC radio series — "P.C. 49", "TOP OF THE FORM", etc. and for many years BBC/TV used his specially written music for BBC/TV News. He appeared with his own combination "The Marimberos" in many hundreds of BBC light music broadcasts.

Much of his time was spent working in the musical theatre, and for 25 years he composed and arranged the music for the famous London Palladium pantomimes. This period included working for every major British Theatre Company. At this time he started to make special arrangements of music shows for use by amateur operatic companies. These were published by Josef Weinberger, and include such well-known titles as "The Merry Widow", "Lilac Time", "Die Fledermaus", "Orpheus in the Underworld", etc., all of which are very popular and often performed here in Australia. There are some 25 shows in all.

Among the many hundreds of compositions on record and tape, one stands out as one of the best-known pieces of music in Australia — its title "Pastorale", but better-known as the theme of the ABC radio serial "Blue Hills". Two of the earliest works to become known to brass bands were "Souvenir de France" and "Stephen Foster Fantasy". These proved so popular the world over, that they were published for piano solo, orchestra, brass and military band. More recent band compositions include several test pieces — "Mexican Fiesta", "Episodes for Brass", "The Four Corners of the World" and one yet to be used in Australia — "Alice in Wonderland". Probably the most popular piece for band is "March with a Beat", but there is rarely a party piece contest without someone playing one of the two septets, or quartet.

Mr. Norman Henstridge, Brisbane, Qld

Norman Henstridge is no stranger to Victoria, having played with Collingwood Citizens and Metropolitan Fire Brigade Bands prior to moving to Queensland. Norm will be remembered as a Soprano and B♭ Cornet player of considerable ability, having Champion of Champions on both instruments. His services as an Adjudicator are keenly sought after throughout Australia and New Zealand. He has officiated at the New Zealand Nationals on two occasions, has been chief Adjudicator at Ballarat on three occasions and has Adjudicated in every other State. Mr. Henstridge is currently involved with the Junior movement in Queensland, conducting seminars and music schools in various areas throughout the State.

Mr. Galvin H. John, Tanunda, S.A.

Mr. John has had a distinguished career in the Band movement as a player, Conductor and Adjudicator. He commenced by playing Baritone with the Tanunda Town Band at the age of 10 years and was later principal Euphonium for many years with that Band. After a period as Deputy Bandmaster at Tanunda he succeeded his brother as Conductor at Tanunda, under his leadership that Band won the Test at the annual Tanunda Contest. Mr. John has Adjudicated in every State and has been Associate Adjudicator for two National Championships and officiated as Chief Adjudicator at the Queensland State Championships on four occasions.

Mr. P. Cerezo, Adelaide, S.A.

Paul is one of the younger brigade of Adjudicators, his early training was in Sydney where he was not only an accomplished Soloist but had a term as Musical Director of the Blue Mountains City Band. After leaving N.S.W. Paul came to Melbourne for some four or five years when he played with Malvern and Hawthorn Bands, he also had terms as Musical Director of Geelong City and Dandenong Bands. Paul now resides in Adelaide where he is Musical Director of Kensington and Norwood Band and is employed as Community Arts Officer with the City of Norwood.

Mr. Don Cushion, Melbourne

Don commenced his musical career with Brunswick City Band at the age of seven years and at eighteen years he was appointed as Deputy Bandmaster. After some twenty-five years as principal trumpet with the Tasmanian Symphony Orchestra Don accepted an appointment as General Secretary of the Professional Musicians' Union. Don has officiated as Associate Adjudicator at two previous National Championships and also at many State Championships throughout Australia.

Lt. Com. G. D. C. Coxon, L.R.A.M., Melbourne

Lt. Com. Coxon is another product of the famous Collingwood Citizens Band. Subsequent to his entering the Naval service in 1946 Lt. Comm. Coxon entered the Royal Academy of Music where he gained his Licentiate. After service in many parts of the world he returned to Australia and was, in 1970, appointed Director of Music for the R.A.N.

His sound musical background and expert criticism have led to Lt. Com. Coxon being eagerly sought after as an Adjudicator in several States.

Previous position held — Director of Music, Royal Australian Navy with rank of Lieutenant Commander, held responsibilities for the training of musicians and Bandmasters of the R.A.N. (1958-1975). Preparation, production and conducting of annual recording and television sessions for band, both in Australia and Overseas.

Mr. Victor Grieve, Bathurst, N.S.W.

Vic commenced his musical career at a very early age and later joined the Royal Marines as a Boy Musician. Whilst with the Marines he studied at the Royal Marines School of Music, Knellar Hall, where he qualified as a Bandmaster. After migrating to Australia in the early 1960's he spent quite some time as a member of the Queensland and Sydney Symphony Orchestras. As well as being an examiner for the A.M.E.B. he is also lecturer in instrumental music at the Mitchell College of Advanced Education in Bathurst where he has established a full Military Band. He also acts in an advisory capacity at St. Stanislaus College.

Mr. P. Thorn, Melbourne

Phil is a graduate of the Royal Marines School of Music, after 23 years service with the Marines, during which time he rose to Bandmaster, he retired to take up a position on the music staff of a boys' school. In 1959 Phil came to Australia to join the R.A.A.F. Central Band.

Phil has been associated with Coburg and Footscray-Yarraville Bands as Musical Director and more recently has just retired as Musical Director of the R.A.N. Reserve Band with the rank of Lt. Commander. Phil is currently involved with the Education Department as teacher of instrumental music.

Chief Drill Adjudicator

Mr. Neville Duniam, Beenleigh, Qld

Chief Drill Adjudicator Neville Duniam, from Beenleigh, Queensland, at 51 years of age, has had a varied and interesting band career since he first started playing in 1937. Over the years he has played with bands of all standards, brass and military, including Aust. Army, R.A.N., and more recently, the South Australian Police Band.

As a soloist he competed on trombone successfully in Tasmania, Victoria, South Australia and Queensland, being twice Australian Champion in Adelaide 1963 and Ballarat 1967. He was also South Australian Champion of Champions in 1970, and Queensland Champion of Champions in 1975. In 1976 he retired from playing due to a slight medical problem, and concentrated on drill, which he had been interested in for a number of years. In the 1956-1959 period he was a Warrant Officer in the C.M.F., and as such judged at several Cadet Band Competitions. He was also a judge for Marching Girls, and judged several times at State and District Championships. He then started as a band drum-major, and later started training bands for contests, with moderate success, and managed to win two Champion Drum-Major trophies in the process.

In 1975 he qualified as a Drill Adjudicator, and was immediately elected to the Drill Advisory Panel for the Q.B.A. Since that date, he has judged at several District Contests, and at the 1977 Qld Band Championships.

Down Under – Ronald Hanmer

Ronald Hanmer's music bears the unmistakable signs of a thoroughly competent and highly experienced musician. He writes like the professional he is; his music is eminently playable, and it works!

There is nothing surprising in that, of course. In his native England, Ronald Hanmer is known and respected as a composer and arranger of tuneful music, spanning many styles.

His interest in the brass band scene has, in recent years, resulted in a flow of original compositions for this medium. "Down Under" is the latest in a growing and impressive list. The music falls into three clearly defined sections: following a flurry of semiquavers the first section is built on a heraldic theme, based on a fanfare-like figure of 4ths and 5ths, which is thrown liberally around the band, thus allowing each section to make its presence felt. A good band will make this sound well — and not fail to observe the suggested tempo! Next, a tranquil section, set over a gentle rhythmic pattern which makes for pleasant listening and affords the opportunity for the Cornet to lead, by way of a Cadenza, into the final section, marked Vivo! Briefly the music waits, whilst the euphonium has his chance with the Cadenza (this time pitched a 3rd lower) and so the music sets off on a rollicking 6/8, with fine opportunities for a technically well equipped band to make the music sparkle, before the return of the middle section, broadly treated, and a last reference to the opening heraldic figure brings the music to a massive conclusion.

A players' piece, which listeners will also enjoy; and with it all, a good test piece. Who could ask for more?

The dedication, "To the bandsmen of Australia", is a nice gesture by the composer to his new-found colleagues in the band scene Down Under. I hope we shall also hear this music being used at the other end of the world (should that be called Up Over?). It deserves to be successful, it is a pleasant addition to the repertoire and not just for contests.

"Down Under" was written specifically for the Australian Brass Band Championships, and is the first time that a major A Grade test piece has been written in Australia and premiered here. In writing this composition Ronald Hanmer states in a world where so much new music is hard on the ear and difficult to understand, this piece purposefully tries to please and entertain. He hopes that both bands and audiences will like it sufficiently to ensure that it may gain a permanent place on the brass band repertoire.

Locality Map

First Aid for the SJAB

“For many years we have existed on the unselfish generosity of our own members who have supplied their first-aid equipment out of their own pockets.

“Now the demands on our voluntary service to the public are ever increasing, and our members have reached breaking point in keeping up their stores of not only medical supplies, but also vital life-saving equipment and training aids.

“Our vehicles, which are only used as first-aid posts, and do not transport patients to hospitals, are a vital part of our work, but are now becoming too expensive to purchase or even maintain.”

A frank summation of the Victorian District of the St. John Ambulance Brigade's present position by Mr. David A. McIntyre, a District Staff Officer and Editor of its official quarterly organ, 'The White Cross'.

In other words, the Brigade is itself in dire need of first-aid. Towards this objective, it launched its first-ever public appeal for financial support in September 1977. The appeal, which was in force until December 1977, has raised in excess of $100,000.

However, apart from finance, the Brigade is anxious to enlist support from the medical ranks in order to effectively maintain and improve its community services.

“There is a definite need for the medical profession here to play an active role together with our very much alive group of dedicated volunteer community workers”, stressed Mr. McIntyre.

Misconceptions

Before outlining requirements for doctor-involvement, Mr. McIntyre drew attention to popular misconceptions that are held with regard to the organisation.

1. That those associated with the SJAB are paid a salary by the Government
“Not true,” said Mr. McIntyre. “All our members are volunteers who not only provide their own uniforms, but purchase their own first-aid supplies and equipment to serve the public.”
2. That they are part of the Ambulance Service in Victoria.
“Not true. Originally, the Ambulance Service of Victoria was provided by St. John Ambulance Association, but circumstances demanded a separate organisation with a higher expertise of training and skill and, of course, financially supported by the Government.”
St. John Ambulance is a separate group of purely voluntary membership, with a self-help financial structure, relying on a small Government grant and donations from organisations, firms and other community service groups such as Rotary, Lions, Apex, etc.
3. That the community at large can call on or demand services, believing them to be free of charge.
“Not true. In these days of high costs of products and transport, whether private or public, it has become increasingly difficult for our members to provide the type of service to the community that has always been their endeavour. The vehicles that each Division has or would like to have which are, in reality, mobile first-aid posts, are not only expensive to purchase but have become more and more difficult to maintain. Without these vehicles, emergency treatment given would have to be provided out in the open with very little comfort or privacy for the patient.”

On a historical note, the first-aider has been working side by side with members of the medical profession for centuries. The Order of St. John, its full name being the Most Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, is an ancient order, developing initially — according to legend — from a pilgrims' hospital established in Jerusalem in the year AD 600. "The work undertaken by members has survived nine centuries of battle," said Mr. McIntyre, "and so this great movement by its own courage and resilience, is today an Order of Chivalry."

Monolith of Brass

This activity is being arranged in conjunction with the Melbourne City Council free entertainment in the parks program.

The event will be covered by national television and other forms of media. It is envisaged that with the assistance of non-competing Melbourne Bands, we can assemble in the vicinity of 2,000 players in the Bowl. All Trombones will be on stage as will be most of the Basses. Other instruments will be seated in the audience seating of the Bowl.

The Guinness Book of Records already has a listing for a Marching Band (American), but there is no listing for a Brass Band in Concert. An application has been made to Guinness for such a listing, this will be an opportunity for Bands and Bandsmen from all over Australia and New Zealand to steal a "march" on our American counterparts, for that matter anywhere in the world. To make this a record that will require quite some organising to beat, we must have the fullest co-operation of all Bandmasters and players.

Instant Service

All minor repairs and adjustments for woodwind and brass instruments will be carried out while you wait.
