Lord Mayor*

Message from
Mr. Richard Mackie,
Managing Director,
Boosey & Hawkes
(Australia)
Pty. Ltd.

Foreword

In this day and age, with such a proliferation of canned music emanating from every quarter, it will be a delight to hear so much live music from one venue.

Banding continues to be an essential part of community life particularly where it fosters interaction and involvement between young and old, and provides a platform for artistic expression.

Boosey & Hawkes are pleased to help sponsor the 1992 Australian National Band Championships in such a magnificent venue and we congratulate the committee on the organisation of the Championships and wish all participants success in their events.

Richard Mackie
Managing Director

Band Association of N.S.W. President's Message

When Mr. Stuart Barnes of the Sydney City Council approached us 18 months ago and asked whether we would consider staging the 1992 Australian National Band Championships in Sydney as part of the Sydney Sesqui-Centenary Celebrations we jumped at the opportunity even though we realised it was (by rotation) Tasmania's year to stage this prestigious event. At this juncture we express our thanks to Tasmania for forgoing the event for one year to allow it to be part of Sydney's Sesqui-Centenary Celebrations.

For as long as I can remember the Council of the City of Sydney has been in the forefront in support of the band movement of New South Wales, for over 100 years bands have played an important part in the Council's entertainment in city parks and reserves and city squares. At the present time the Council sponsors the City of Sydney Concert Band, a follow on group from the Bicentennial Band and Sydney Youth Band for the International Year of Youth which it also sponsored. These three bands have represented the City of Sydney at National and International Festivals both here and overseas. This year the Sydney Concert Band will visit Zurich, Grindelwald, Luxembourg, Brussels, Paris, London, Villers-Bretonneux where there are 35,000 graves in the Australian War Cemetery, and five days in Seville, Spain playing on Australia's official day at EXPO.

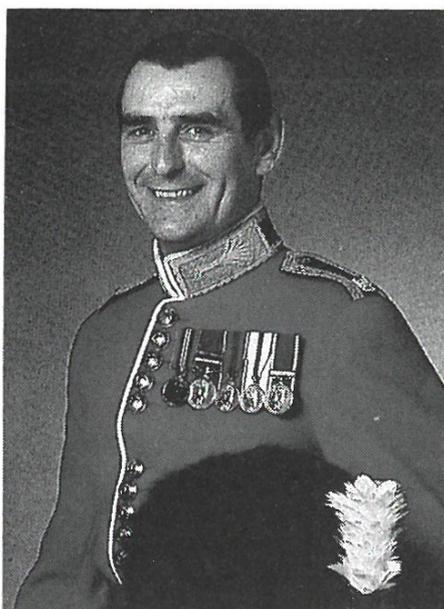

On behalf of the Band Association of New South Wales I thank the Lord Mayor, Alderman Frank Sartor and Aldermen of Council for the civic reception extended to our visitors, for the Parade of the Bands through the City and for so generously making available the Beautiful Sydney Town Hall free of charge for the duration of the Band Festival. To Boosey & Hawkes Aust. Pty. Ltd. a name synonymous with bands throughout the World and to their Managing Director Mr. Richard Mackie, a special thank you as our main sponsor with the Council. To all other Sponsors and supporters our very special thanks as well as to Stuart Barnes and Keith Lewis and staff for their never ending co-operation and understanding.

In conclusion I extend a very warm welcome to all our visitors, our soloist from Norway, our bands from New Zealand and interstate & country bands and I hope you have a most enjoyable few days, making music, in the greatest city in the world.

CLIFF GOODCHILD. O.A.M.
PRESIDENT.

NOTT'NUM TOWN

THE CASTLE built on rock, high over the City of Nottingham was modified by Henry II and grew in size and magnificence during the reigns of Edward IV, and Richard III who marched from the Castle to meet Henry Tudor at Bosworth Field in 1485. Edward III surprised Mortimer and his mother, Queen Isabella at the Castle, and so established his throne. "Mortimer's Hole" is one of the hiding places still to be seen in the underground passages.

Charles I raised his standard there, and it withstood the Royalists throughout the Civil War.

THE RIVER TRENT, 725 miles in length, and third longest river in England, winds from Biddulph Moor through Nottingham County and is navigable as far as Nottingham.

A pleasure spot in its reaches, one can imagine the strolling couples, with the ladies clothed, from crinolines to mini-skirts.

GOOSE FAIR, bringing nostalgic memories of caliopes, swing-boats, coconut shies, naphtha lamps, etc., traditionally dates from the Charter of Edward I in 1284, and is supposedly named from its sales of Geese, some 20,000 coming from many miles around.

During the centuries it has been held annually, changing its make-up with the times, and is opened by the Lord Mayor, following a proclamation on behalf of the Sheriff of Nottingham, whose predecessors were so harassed by Robin Hood and his Merry Men.

The Festive City

Suite for Brass Band

This work has been commissioned for the 1981 Festival in the City of Wollongong, Australia, when Brass Bands are to be especially featured.

There are four movements:

I – City between Mountain and Sea

A brief introduction is based on the rhythm of the City's name. Following this, the 9/8 rhythm typifies the sea and the Alpine style of the mountains. Solemn chords remind us of the City's churches, and bright, rhythmic music the happy general atmosphere.

II – The Sublime Point

The music illustrates a gradual climb to the high point, a song-like passage as one gazes at the view, and a gradual descent.

III – Port Kembla

Here can be found the City's heavy industry, steel works and coal loader. The music is strongly rhythmic and unyielding.

IV – The Beach Front

The North Beach is for relaxation, surfing, sport – and listening to the band. Perhaps some strains of a popular Australian song will be heard!

* * * * *

The composer thanks the Lord Mayor of Wollongong – Mr. Frank Ashill – and Mr. John Flynn, Bandmaster of the Miners' Federation Industrial Silver Band, for books and information which prompted so many ideas for the writing of this suite.

Óðin

In the mist and darkness of the long harsh winters of Iceland in the ancient day, flourished the 'old religion', a baleful and all-powerful influence on the lives and destiny of those who inhabited Scandinavia and those remote and forbidding northlands. It was a barbaric age of superstition, pagan belief in magic and violent heroics. In a wild and hostile land was practised the secret ritual of 'casting the runes', those mysterious stone-carved hieroglyphic symbols, said to be possessed of magic powers and capable of foretelling the future. The cult of Odin was a dark and malevolent one. He was the god of the occult and of war; the lord of all the northlands, guardian of the mystical secret of the runes and all-omnipotent among the gods.

We are to a large extent direct descendants of those early Viking marauders from across the North Sea and beyond, whose nordic culture remains deeply ingrained in many aspects of our own way of life even to the present day. Some of the spirit of aggressive, challenging heroics has come down to us in the ceaseless struggle for supremacy, still pursued symbolically in the prowess displayed in musical performance. This is particularly so in the cult of the brass band whose music of such heroic caste has long flourished as one of its salient features. The mystical rites of casting the runes might be said to be still observed in the solemn drawing of lots, the numbers of which are even thought by some to be imbued with dark and prophetic qualities, foretelling the outcome of the imminent conflict.

The lettering of the score cover is based on authentic Icelandic carvings found on the Ragnarok Stone at Kirk Andreas in the Isle of Man. It is believed that this was made sometime in the 1100's by Gaut, a Viking sculptor. It depicts the Raven, a symbolic creature in Viking mythology, communing with Odin who is being devoured by the ferocious wolf, Fenrir while the serpent entwines them both.

PARTITA. by Edward Gregson. Composer's Foreword.

The work is in three movements; much of the thematic material is based on the 13th century plainsong Dies Irae. The opening Intrada is sombre in mood. Only in the middle section does any optimism intrude. The rest of the movement develops the opening phrase of the plainsong tune, mainly in heavy chordal writing. The second movement is a Chorale and Variations. The chorale melody follows the main outline of the plainsong. The five variations that follow are varied in mood and intensity. The final March is much happier in mood and has a lyrical tune in the middle, first heard on horns. However references to the Dies Irae are still apparent and the final bars of the work contain a quote from the opening movement. The music has come full circle.

CITY OF SYDNEY CONCERT BAND

The City of Sydney Concert Band is Sydney's own band and resident band for the Sydney Town Hall. Proudly supported by the Council of the City of Sydney, the band performs at many ceremonial occasions and functions as required by the council. Apart from its official role within our cities annual programme of civic and festive events, the bands charter gives it freedom to enjoy a much wider area of influence and has become an important forum for the development and refinement of performance skills in young musicians from all over the city. With its unique link to the City of Sydney, under the patronage of the Lord Mayor, its commitment to overseas tours and officially endorsed cultural exchanges with Sydney's Sister Cities, the band is enjoying a growing reputation both locally and internationally.

The City of Sydney Concert Band has origins going back to 1985 when the Council of the City of Sydney endorsed the formation of the City of Sydney Youth Festival Concert Band as a special activity associated with the International Year of Youth. This band first rehearsed at a weekend camp at Vision Valley in February 1985 before taking part in a series of public concerts during that year.

In 1986, the then Director of Music, Mr Victor Grieve sought the support of Council for the continuance of the Band as the City of Sydney Bicentennial concert Band, with the aim of performing at events leading up to and during Australia's 200th birthday celebrations. The Bicentennial Band performed with great distinction giving some 75 public performances during 1987-88 and undertaking two major overseas tours visiting England, France, Japan, Canada and USA. Performance highlights include Portsmouth U.K. in the presence of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth on the occasion of the departure of the First Fleet Re-enactment and on the forecourt of the Sydney Opera House on that never to be forgotten Australia Day in 1988. The band also performed at the Piazza and in the daily parade at Expo 88 in Brisbane and at the renowned Calgary Stampede.

When the City of Sydney Bicentennial Band Completed its charter on December 31st 1988, an interested group of parents and friends of the band prepared a new submission to council recommending the formation of the City of Sydney Concert Band as its permanent successor. The proposal was accepted and the Council enthusiastically endorsed the formation of a permanent concert and marching band to represent this City. With Squadron Leader Michael Butcher appointed as the new Director of Music, the reformed band rehearsed for the first time in May, 1989.

The City of Sydney Concert Band is able to perform a wide range of music in both concert and marching role and prides itself on its ability to provide suitable music for virtually any occasion. The band has entertained the citizens of Sydney in all manner of events and functions, both indoors and outdoors including product launches, opening nights, conferences, receptions, music festivals, mayoral balls, dinner dances, street parades, sporting fixtures, ship departures etc. Since the band became a permanent part of the Sydney scene in 1989, it has completed two further major tours returning to Japan in 1990 and in 1991 visiting Central Australia.

The Sesquicentenary of the City Council and the growing status of the band has seen a marked increase in performance activity in 1992. During the first quarter of 1992 the band has enjoyed its most active period since the height of the Bicentennial Celebrations. The performances include such prestigious functions as the Lord Mayor's Charity Concert, the arrival and departure of the SS QEII, the arrival of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip at Sydney Town Hall, the World Cup Cricket, St Patrick's Day Parade and the 60th Anniversary of the Sydney Harbour Bridge.

In July this year the band will embark on its forth and most ambitious overseas tour when it will visit six European countries. During the three week tour, the band will perform in Switzerland, Luxembourg, Belgium, France, Spain and England. The highlight of the tour, and indeed its main purpose, is to visit and perform at the Universal Expo in Seville Spain. The Band will be performing for the Australian National Day celebrations in company with James Morrison, Circus Oz and the aboriginal Rock group Yothu Yindi. The band has been honoured by the Australian Government in being the only non-professional group endorsed to perform at the Expo, the largest International Event ever held. The tour, which also coincides with Sydney's Sesquicentennial Celebrations, will see the band again visit our Sister City of Portsmouth where they will perform at the Portsmouth Festival. The band will also perform at the new Euro Disneyland which only opens this month.

The Director of Music, Squadron Leader (Ret'd) Michael Butcher, was formally Director of Music of the Royal Australian Air Force and is one of Australia's most distinguished band conductors. He has had a lifelong involvement with Military and Community Bands with considerable success in National competition. He held the position of Director of Music, NSW Police Band for ten years before his Air Force posting where he conducted the RAAF Central Band, widely regarded as Australia's foremost Military Band. Michael Butcher is a skilled music arranger and has to his credit the official arrangement of our National Anthem.

The 60 member band has an open age policy, with current member ages ranging from 15 to 60 (average of 21) and includes some of the finest young musicians drawn from the Sydney metropolitan area. The band dresses in a striking blue and white uniform with white Akubra hats for outdoor and marching performances and a dark blue and white uniform for formal indoor concerts.

The band has come a long way since those modest beginnings in 1985. As it enters its eighth year its reputation and stature continues to grow and its role as ambassadors for the City of Sydney gathers momentum with the completion of each tour. With all this the bands future place in the hearts and minds of Sydney's fun loving citizens seem assured.

FOLKSONGS FOR BAND

SUITE NO. 3

David Stanhope

Each of the folksong suites is based on tunes from Great Britain, and all are dedicated to the memory of Percy Grainger. Like the folk-music settings of that composer, they use the original melodies in a variation or passacaglia-like form as a means for harmonic and contrapuntal invention.

The third suite consists of three such settings: "Droylsden Wakes", a sentimental verse-and-chorus piece (Droylsden being an old village in Lancashire); "Lord Bateman", a vigorous, virtuosic setting with constant metrical changes; and "3 Ships And Lisbon", a mixture of two folktunes and a third original melody by the composer. In this last setting, one might imagine the bells of a distant town with the listener and his party approaching; on entering the town, the visitors are overwhelmed with the majestic "3 Ships" melody, but nevertheless attempt to whistle their own tunes over the top.

MOLLIE NEALE MEMORIAL FUND.

The Band Association of N.S.W. Ltd has set up the Mollie Neale Memorial Fund in Memory of Mollie Neale.

The Fund will be used as a Scholarship for a Pianist to train as an Accompanist to accompany Soloists in Brass and Woodwind.

There are many many Soloists who owe a lot to Mollie, who accompanied Soloists from all over Australia. Mollie travelled to all States and to New Zealand and many a Soloist has stated that Mollie was one of the best accompanistes that they have ever had. It was great to see her helping the very young Soloist over their first Contest and the Champions of today in all probability started with Mollie accompanying them.

Please send your donation to The Secretary, Band Associaion of N.S.W. Ltd. P.O. Box 374, Villawood. 2163.
