LORD MAYOR MESSAGE

AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL BAND CHAMPIONSHIPS

The city is alive with the sound of music!

As Australia's first – and only – UNESCO City of Music, we have an enviable live music scene, host world-class music festivals, and are home to some of the country's leading music institutions.

So, it seems fitting that the Australian National Band Championships are back in Adelaide after eight years, bringing with it more than 3000 musicians from Australia and New Zealand.

Over three days, Elder Hall, the Scott Theatre, and the Torrens Parade Ground will play host to the crème de la crème of musical talent.

When you're not entranced by a battle of the bands, make sure you walk around our city and experience what makes Adelaide one of the most liveable places in the world.

We have plenty of intimate venues playing host to emerging musical talent, larger-scale late-night music venues, and a pumping pub scene which offers acoustic acts and live performances.

On a classical note, the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra have a wonderfully curated program of shows during this time of the year.

On behalf of the City of Adelaide, I welcome you to Adelaide and hope you soak up and experience what makes us the musical heartbeat of Australia!

Dr Jane Lomax-Smith

Lord Mayor of the City of Adelaide

WELCOME FROM

Welcome to the 2024 National Band Championships in Adelaide, SA. It's great to see that bands are slowly getting back into a full programme and able to participate in state and national championships.

Banding is like being in a family and it's always great to catch up and see "old comrades", as well as hear the various performances. Contesting isn't just about trying to win, but performing at your best, as well as being part of a great musical movement.

Thank you also to the Organising Committee of the South Australian Band Association for their dedication and hard work. I'm looking forward to seeing and hearing as many bands as I can.

Representative honours which have been given to Nicholas include an Honorary Doctorate from Leeds University where he served as Professor in Music and Recording, the Iles Medal from the Worshipful Company of Musicians, in recognition of services to brass bands, and the Freedom of the City of London.

Barrie Gott – B Grade, D Grade, Junior Brass Bands

He has taught at all levels of education in private and government sectors and was Director of Instrumental Music at Azusa Pacific University in California.

Barrie's compositions for concert and brass bands are well known and in 2004 he was awarded the Frank Wright medal for services to banding.

He is the former owner and musical director of the Queensland Pops Orchestra, working with Australian and international artists. In 2015 he retired from the Queensland Department of Education and Training as a Senior Instrumental Teacher but continues to provide relief teaching and consultancy.

Barrie has served as bandmaster for Salvation Army bands in Sydney, Brisbane and Pasadena California. He is also a former musical director for the Brisbane Excelsior Brass Band.

CHIEF ADJUDICATOR CONCERT BANDS

Bryan Griffiths

Bryan Griffiths is a conductor with extensive experience across professional, educational and community music spheres. Specialising in wind ensembles, he is also proficient in orchestral and chamber music, having conducted the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra, the Band of the South Australian Police, the Sydney Conservatorium of Music Wind Symphony, the Adelaide Hills Chamber Players and the Adelaide Summer Orchestra of which he was co-founder. In 2019, he was appointed Music Director of the Adelaide Wind Orchestra, who record for Brolga Music Australia and are scheduled to release their debut album in April 2024. Under his direction, the Adelaide Wind Orchestra has been invited to perform at the 2024 International Conference of the World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles in Gwangju-Gyeonggi, South Korea.

Beginning in January of this year, Bryan was appointed Director of Music Performance at Pembroke School, where he leads in all aspects of the school's ensemble and instrumental programs. Prior to this appointment, Bryan worked extensively as a casual lecturer in classical performance at the University of Adelaide, which included the directorship of the Elder Conservatorium Wind Orchestra and Brass Ensemble. He continues his long-standing relationship with the University as a part-time member of the conducting faculty and as PhD candidate in music performance. Under the supervision of Prof. Charles Bodman Rae and Dr. Luke Dollman, his doctoral research focuses on Australian wind ensemble repertoire. Extending his passion for this genre's artistic advancement and recognition also led Bryan to found the Adelaide Wind Band Festival, successfully launched in June 2023 and presented in partnership with ABODA SA and the Elder Conservatorium of Music.

Bryan's emergence as a versatile conductor and educator began in 2012 through what would become a decade-long professional relationship with the Adelaide Youth Orchestras; there, he has held various positions, often concurrently, including those of Associate Conductor, director of the Adelaide Youth Wind Orchestra and mentor of chamber ensembles. During this time, he received regular invitations to conduct for the South Australian Music Camp and has returned there to conduct as recently as 2021. In 2015, Bryan was invited to conduct, teach and perform at the Federal University of Santa Maria's Festival Internacional de Inverno held in Southern Brazil.

His reputation as a passionate and well-rounded instructor has further been consolidated through his presentation of workshops and masterclasses, developed at the request of such bodies as the Australian Band and Orchestra Directors' Association (ABODA). In addition to regularly adjudicating for ABODA's SA School and Band Festival, Bryan has adjudicated the annual state band championships for the South Australian and New South Wales Band Associations.

Before focusing on conducting, Bryan performed as a horn player with the Tasmanian Symphony Orchestra, Sydney Sinfonia, the Adelaide Art Orchestra and the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra, where he served in a full-time position from 2010 until 2015. As a soloist, he performed with the Elder Conservatorium Chamber Orchestra, the Adelaide Youth Orchestra and Unley Symphony Orchestra. His principal horn teachers were Philip Hall, Philip Paine and Nelson Green.

ADJUDICATOR CONCERT BANDS

Dr Jemima Bunn

Dr Jemima Bunn completed a Bachelor of Education from The University of Melbourne (1996) and a Masters in Music Education at University of Wisconsin – Madison (2001-2002). More recently, Jemima completed her PhD study in music education from The University of Melbourne – Melbourne Graduate School of Education (2019).

Throughout her studies, she presented at several academic and scholarly conferences for the American Educational Research Association (AERA), Australia and New Zealand Research Association of Music Education (ANZARME), Australian Society of Music Educators (ASME), as well as the European Association of Music in Schools Conference (EAS) and Visions of Research in Music Education (VRME).

CHIEF ADJUDICATOR, PARADE OF BANDS

Jeff Hale

Jeff is the current Chairperson of the South Australian Band Association Drill Advisory Board.

He obtained his love for marching bands when he was a young boy, watching his Father parade with the Central Command Army Band as Drum Major, especially on the Torrens Parade Ground.

In 1971, Jeff joined South Australian Police as a cadet and during his training period at the Academy, was taught Parade Ground drill by a very experienced drill instructor who was an ex British Guardsman.

Jeff has played in Brass and Concert Bands and recently retired as long term Drum Major of Unley Concert Band during which time the Band won numerous State and National marching titles. Jeff was awarded the prestigious Jim Brill Memorial trophy for Champion Drum Major at the 2014 Nationals.

A highlight for Jeff was when the Unley Concert Band toured the Western Front in France in 2009 and also performed at the Anzac Day Dawn service at Villers-Bretonneux.

The Band was then given the honour of marching up the Champs Elysées to the Arc de Triomphe, leading a large contingent of retired Military personnel, an honour never before given to any Australian Community Band.

Jeff and the Drill Advisory Board continue to encourage marching in South Australia.

MORE THAN A MUTE

Yamaha's next generation SILENT Brass delivers greater playing enjoyment, anytime, anywhere.

SILENT Brass consists of a pickup mute and a Personal Studio. Using Yamaha's exclusive Brass Resonance Modelling, the Personal Studio transforms the quiet muted sound heard by those around you, into the same natural acoustic tone you would expect to hear when playing mute-free. Additionally the micro-USB port allows connection to your computer or smart device, making it possible to play along with pre-recorded tracks, record and share your performance, and take part in online lessons.

Visit the trade hall play station for the full silent brass experience!

Available for: Trumpet, Flugelhorn, Tenor/Bass Trombone, French Horn, Tuba, and Euphonium.

OUR TIMPANI

Yamaha timpani are designed to meet both the practical needs and the sonic demands of beginners through professional timpanists. Top quality materials result in superior attack, sustain, and pitch definition, while design features ensure outstanding playability.

Yamaha's entry level aluminium timpani series TP-3300 and TP-4300R are relatively lightweight for portability, yet boast well-defined low tones. High-purity copper is used for the TP-6300R and 7300R series, where traditional techniques are augmented by modern technology.

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF NEWCASTLE STEELWORKS BAND, NSW

This year celebrates the 100th year after the attendance of the Newcastle Steel Work Band from New South Wales at the 'British Empire Contests' in the United Kingdom in 1924.

Albert Baile (1882 – 1961) was the Bandmaster, who was born in Battersea London. He emigrated to Queensland with his family in 1887. He was later attracted to the goldfields in WA. A cornet player originally, in 1913 he took over as Bandmaster of the Perth City Band from his mentor Bill Partington, to win several State titles while Bandmaster from 1913 to 1920.

In March 1920 he was appointed Bandmaster of the Newcastle Steel Works Band in New South Wales. Soon afterwards, they won the Queensland Championship and became rivals to the Malvern Tramways Band, which was the pre-eminent band of the day.

International fame came with the epic tour to Great Britain in 1924 as part of what was to be a visit to represent Australia at the British Trade Exhibition held at the Wembley Stadium. Imagine the amount of time it took to travel by ship from Australia. Just the journey from Fremantle in WA to England took a month.

In June 1924 at Bell Vue, Manchester, the band won first prize at what was officially called the 'British Empire Contests' in Halifax. They beat Foden's, Irwell Springs and Black Dyke, each of which were considered English banding giants.

One of the band's lasting and more curious legacies is that it was the first to perform in the now traditional seating formation. As the members of the band walked onto the stage in 1924, they each carried a chair and set them out in concert formation. They then sat down to wait for the arrival of their conductor. From that day onwards, contesting bands have always been seated to play the contest piece. However, the legacy remains today with bands now sitting for their entire performance whenever on stage.

Sadly, the band almost closed on its return to New South Wales, but managed to keep going until 1932, when the remaining players amalgamated with another local group to become the Newcastle City Band.
